

HOUSE GETS NEUTRALITY BILL

CITY OF FLINT LEFT TROMSOE, NORWAY, MONDAY AFTERNOON

GERMANY INDICATES INTENSIVE SEA CAMPAIGN AGAINST ENGLAND

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 30. (P)—Reports from Norway today said the United States freighter City of Flint, released from a Soviet port to her German captors, had departed from Tromsø, Norway, late this afternoon.

These reports were the first clue to the whereabouts of the American vessel which was taken to Murmansk, Russia, by a German prize crew following her capture while carrying a miscellaneous cargo to England.

The City of Flint was said to have sailed at 4 p. m. (9 a. m. CST) from Tromsø, the northern Norwegian port where the captured ship halted briefly on its northward journey to Russia more than a week ago.

BERLIN, Oct. 30. (P)—The American freighter City of Flint apparently was the quarry today in a grim game of hide-and-seek somewhere in the North Atlantic, but German officials were silent.

Unofficial sources said the vessel still was in the hands of a German prize crew and attempting to dodge the British blockade on a run from Murmansk, Russia, to a German port.

The American crew which was taken with the City of Flint after its capture in the Atlantic was said to be still aboard as "passengers."

The inactivity of recent days continued on the western front, according to a brief but continued communiqué which merely reported all quiet.

In informed quarters, meanwhile, hints were dropped of an intensified German submarine campaign against British sea commerce.

"Give England a taste of what a blockade means," was a phrase uttered in naval circles.

Enthusiasm over the successes so far in eight weeks of submarine warfare had led many Germans to the conclusion that Nazi undersea raiders have discovered the weakest link in Britain's defense.

While war leaders concentrated on sea and air assaults against Britain, domestic authorities were

Freezing Weather In Two Panhandle Cities Reported

By The Associated Press

Winter tentatively poked a finger into Texas Monday, bringing freezing weather to at least two west Texas regions and promising to do the same again early Tuesday.

At Amarillo's airport temperatures fell overnight to 25 degrees, and freezing was forecast for tonight. Plainview reported 31-degree weather, the first of the season. Tuesday's predicted lows will be followed, the weather bureau said, by warmer weather throughout west Texas.

San Angelo was hot, dusty and cold within a few hours. Sunday's maximum was 81, which quickly gave way to a low of 41. A moderate dust storm came in late Sunday.

Wichita Falls reported 42 degrees and gust Sunday. Down south around San Antonio the temperature sagged to 52, with 44-degree weather coming up for Tuesday; Fort Worth had a low of 49 with about the same chilly weather expected overnight. Dallas welcomed the same brisk weather.

HOPE STILL PERSISTS THAT EUROPEAN WAR WILL NOT RUN BLOODY COURSE TO ITS FINISH

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Hope dies hard that some way peace may come in the European war without the conflict running a bloody course to a decisive finish.

Leading figures in many neutral states are continuing an effort to find an opening for discussion of formal peace discussions.

Here in our own country influential people are working quietly but diligently to this end. It is a battle against time, if success doesn't come before the first great offensive has undammed fresh floods of bitterness, it will be too late.

When undoubtedly would have been offered long ago had not been for the fear that premature action might be worse than no action at all.

Hitler has made it clear that he has been delaying any operations on land and in the western theatre in the hope that he might get peace, or at least a lull in the fighting, to alter the fact that he

HELD IN MID-AIR SHOOTING

Ernest Pletch, above, 29-year-old barnstorming Indiana aviator, is shown at Indianapolis where he was taken after his arrest near Bloomington, Ind. Indiana state police superintendent Don Silver announced Pletch had confessed the fatal shooting in mid-air of Carl Bivens, Brookfield, Mo., flying instructor, who had taken him aloft at Brookfield. Bivens' body was found in a thicket near Macon, Mo.

YOUNG FARM HAND CONFESSED MURDER GRANDMOTHER, UNCLE

HENRY P. HAYNES SAYS RELATIVES MADE SLURRING REMARKS ABOUT MOTHER

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS.

COMANCHE, Tex., Oct. 30. (P)—Henry P. Haynes, 23, a mild-mannered farm hand, said in a statement today his aged grandmother and an uncle made slurring remarks about his widowed mother so he slugged them and burned them in their home.

Sheriff Wild Spivey said Haynes admitted he planned to "get burned up, too, but the smoke got so bad I ran out."

Haynes was charged with murdering his grandmother, Mrs. Martha McGuire, 70, and her son, J. B. Haynes, 58.

Sunday night, Oct. 22, Haynes said the uncle and grandmother made the "slurring remarks." Then, he related in his signed statement:

"The two men went to bed together and the grandmother retired to her room."

"After his uncle went to sleep the youth got out of bed and walked around outside the house 'thinking things over.'"

"Returning he picked up a large rock used for a door step and called to his uncle:

"'Get up, I want to give you a fair chance. You have never given me and my folks one.'"

"As the elder Haynes crawled out of bed, the boy hurled the heavy rock."

"From then on I was crazy mad. 'Something hit me on the neck. I grabbed a shotgun and hit my uncle on the head with the stock. He ran toward Grandma's room and I hit him again at the door. He fell down there.'"

"Grandmother Awakened."

"The noise awakened the grandmother and she called:

BRITISH GOVERNMENT ISSUES AFFIDAVITS OF NAZI SAVAGERY

ALLEGED MISTREATMENT OF GERMAN NATIONALS BY NAZIS IS REVEALED

LONDON, Oct. 30. (P)—The British government tonight indicated there was not "the slightest prospect of reaching any settlement" with Nazi Germany in a statement dealing with German concentration camps.

An introduction to the statement, containing a collection of affidavits which Britain said showed Nazi "savagery" in "the treatment of German nationals in Germany, 1938-1939," and declared: "These documents were not written for publication and, indeed, as long as there was the slightest prospect of reaching any settlement with the German government it would have been wrong to do anything to embitter relations between the two countries."

The government asserted in its 30,000-word "white paper" that it was published because Germany circulated "shameless propaganda which is wholly devoid of any foundation" accusing "Great Britain of atrocities in South Africa 40 years ago" during the Boer war.

It said most of the papers in the publication came from British consular officials in Germany. Many dealt with concentration camps.

"Flogging and torture were the order of the day," the publication said, "and it was common knowledge in Germany that the National Socialist movement was taking

GERMAN-AMERICAN CLAIMS COMMISSION MAKES FINAL AWARD

ABOUT $50,000,000 GOES TO AMERICANS FOR SABOTAGE BLASTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (P)—The German-American mixed claims commission awarded approximately $50,000,000 today to Americans with claims against Germany arising from the Black Tom and Kingsland, N. J., sabotage cases in 1916 and 1917.

The commission, last June 15, found Imperial Germany responsible for the munitions disasters in New York port area prior to United States entry into the world war.

Today's action made the definite award to the claimants.

Damages of $21,157,227 plus five per cent interest—estimated to approximate $50,000,000 in all—was ordered paid to the claimants.

Germany has a special deposit account at the United States treasury of between $23,000,000 and $26,000,000 to meet the award. The treasury also holds about $500,000, "paper value," in German railway bonds.

Germany, however, has denied the jurisdiction of the commission.

Dr. Victor Huebner, the German commissioner, walked out on the deliberations prior to the decision last June and the German government has protested against making

CHARGES FILED ON RAIL COMMISSIONERS AT AUSTIN MONDAY

MAN SENTENCED TO 24 YEARS CHARGES FORGERY, PASSING

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (P)—Six criminal charges against Railroad Commissioner Lon A. Smith, Jerry Sudler and Ernest O. Thompson were filed in justice court here today by Luther W. Davis, former employee of the commission.

Warrants for the arrest of the three commissioners were issued.

Davis' charges were:

Diversion of part of special fund set aside by law for a specific use, paying public money to a person knowing he is not entitled to receive it, perjury and conspiracy to commit each of these three alleged offenses.

The complaints were based on an allegation that the commissioners' September payroll listed one employee as an assistant in-trustee rate expert whereas in fact he was employed in the oil and gas division.

None of the commissioners was in Austin. Smith and Sadler had gone to Washington, presumably to discuss oil matters with federal officials. Thompson was at Amarillo, his home city.

BARNSTORMING PILOT CONFESSED TO DEATH OF AIR INSTRUCTOR

THREE MISSOURI COUNTIES SEEK CUSTODY OF EARNEST P. PLETCH

MACON, Mo., Oct. 30. (P)—Three Missouri counties sought custody today of Earnest P. (Larry) Pletch, 29-year-old barnstorming aviator and confessed slayer of his companion in a dramatic mid-air struggle.

Pletch, who told Indiana authorities he shot Carl Bivens, 35-year-old Brookfield, Mo., flying instructor after they quarreled while in a plane over northeastern Missouri, faced possible charges of first degree murder, kidnapping and airplane theft by Macon, Linn and Shelby counties.

Prosecuting Attorney Fred C. Bollow of Shelby county said a conference was planned by prosecuting attorneys of the three counties to decide with would prefer charges against the youth. Bollow expressed belief Bivens was killed while in the air over Macon county, although his body was found in a thicket near Cherry Box, in Shelby county.

Flying alone in a yellow monoplane, Pletch was arrested when he made a forced landing at Bloomington, Ind., Saturday night, almost at the same time Bivens' body was found. Coroner C. W. Macocco said the instructor had been shot twice in the head.

Pletch is held in the Macon county jail here, where he was lodged after a hurried trip from Indianapolis.

Turned Over to Missouri

The Frankfort, Ind., youth was turned over to Missouri authorities last night after he had been taken to Indianapolis where he related a story of death in the sky before state police superintendent Don F. Silver.

Late this morning a coroner's jury at Cherry Box returned an open verdict, finding that Bivens came to his death by "shots in the head with a pistol by some person to the jurors unknown."

Captain W. J. Ramsey of the Missouri highway patrol, said the aviator's only explanation of a concern was over fear of mob violence, but Sheriff Max Brown said "mob" action was unlikely.

Officers investigating the killing said they were convinced Bivens had nothing to do with a plot to

CARTER GLASS SAYS HITLER ONLY PERSON TO DRAG U. S. WAR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (P)—Declaring that "the only person on earth who may drag this nation into war is Adolf Hitler," Senator Carter Glass of Virginia said today that President Roosevelt might do so "the sheerest drivelt."

The 81-year old senator, who often has disagreed with the chief executive on domestic issues, asserted last night that senate passage of "cash and carry" rules for American shipping anticipated Hitler's "doing this very thing in brutal disregard of international law."

Resting in the hotel room where he lay ill during the senate debate on neutrality, Glass explained that, while he favored repeal of the arms embargo, he did not take much satisfaction in the "cash and carry" system.

"Even with the harsh and unprecedented restrictions upon our merchant shipping," he said in an interview, "there is no assurance that Hitler's submarines and bombers will not disregard all requirements of international law."

MAN SENTENCED TO 24 YEARS CHARGES FORGERY, PASSING

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (P)—Central Texas officers today searched for three gunmen who robbed a theater office of $3,000 last night after tying up the manager and several employees.

Louis Novy, Austin manager of the Interstate theaters, and three employees were tied up in the office after the gunmen had forced Dick Waite, assistant manager, to open the safe.

WESTERN FRONT IS BECOMING ACTIVE AS STORMS SUBSIDING

GERMANS REPORTED MAKING HEAVY TROOP CONCENTRATIONS ALONG FRONT

PARIS, Oct. 30. (P)—Both German and French commands were reported to have sent out scouting patrols today as storms over the western front lifted after more than a week of winds, rain and snow which paralyzed military operations.

The French morning communiqué said that several German raids had been repulsed.

Military dispatches said the Germans were maintaining heavy troop concentrations all along the front.

Premier Daladier conferred with Air Minister Guy La Chambre on the state of allied defenses against a possible German aerial offensive.

A French admiralty communiqué denied the official German contention that only three German submarines have been sunk by the allies and asserted the French probably have sunk more than that themselves.

Semi-official sources previously asserted the British and French together have sunk at least 20 German submarines since the war's start.

FORMER COMMUNIST PARTY MEMBER WAS COMMITTEE WITNESS

DECLARED THAT JOSEPH CURRAN WAS TELLING UNTRUTH IN TESTIMONY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (P)—A former member of the Communist party testified today that the National Maritime Union (NMU) was a direct outgrowth of several Soviet-sponsored organizations and that its leader, Joseph Curran, was intimate with communist party leaders.

Questioned before the Dies committee about Curran's denial on Saturday that he was acquainted with several alleged communists, William C. McCusker, 38-year-old seaman of Frederick, Md., declared bluntly:

"Curran was lying. That was all."

Under expulsion from the NMU for a total of 212 years, McCusker testified that he formerly was a member or officer of three maritime organizations which originated in Soviet Russia. The NMU, he added, developed directly from those organizations and "the same guys are in the leadership of the NMU today."

McCusker named these men as friends or associates of Curran: Thomas Ray, whom McCusker described as a delegate to the Red International Congress of Labor Unions in Moscow.

Roy B. Hudson, "an honorary member of the Communist party," and "one of the top three in the American Communist party."

McCusker also described William L. Standard, lawyer who accompanied Curran to Washington Saturday, as "a Communist lawyer."

Ray, he declared, accompanied Curran on trips, writes his speeches and frequents his office.

Bridges was branded a Communist by McCusker as he described the part the party played in a rally for seamen at Madison Square Garden in New York during a strike in December, 1936.

After McCusker related that communists financed the rally and arranged for Bridges to come from the west coast to become the "key speaker," Rhea Whitley, counsel for the committee in its investigation, said:

AVIATORS LIVED IN SKY ONE MONTH AND SET ANOTHER RECORD

LONG BEACH, CALIF., OCT. 30. (P)—Clyde Schlieper and Wes Carroll, the only men ever to live for a month in the sky, were the toast of the town today.

The 25-year old fliers returned to Mother Earth yesterday afternoon after 30 days and six hours aloft. Their record of 720 hours far eclipses the former standard of 633 hours, 33 minutes, established by Fred and Al Key near Meridian, Miss., in 1935.

The long hours aloft softened their muscles and left them, temporarily, partially deaf.

The pair slept in beds last night for the first time in 55,500 miles. Naps in the plane were taken in two-hour stretches.

"You don't know how good it is to live like a human being again," grinned Carroll.

"And you don't know what a relief it is to know there's no more danger," agreed his pretty wife.

Mrs. Schlieper, whose cooking kept the men's strength up during the gruelling flight, was all smiles too.

GOVERNOR O'DANIEL WILL MAKE DECISION KNOWN NEXT SUNDAY

STATE EXECUTIVE DECLARES NEWSPAPERS HAVE CENSORSHIP OF THEIR OWN

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (P)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel plans to give a decision next Sunday on whether a special session of the legislature shall be called to provide additional revenue for Texas' social security program.

In his regular broadcast yesterday he said not enough members of the legislature had replied favorably to his poll launched several weeks ago to enable him to determine whether a session would accomplish anything.

In a letter the governor asked if members would vote for a bill levying temporarily in statutory form consumer-natural resource taxes similar to provisions of "S. J. R. 12," proposed constitutional amendment defeated in the last regular session.

"What could be more fair question?" he queried. "It was not my tax plan. It was their own tax plan voted for by 21 senators and 94 house members. I want to know whether they will vote it as a statute, inasmuch as they cannot vote constitutional amendments at a special session."

"I am not trying to force any tax measure on them. They are free to say yes or no, and they are free to not answer at all, if they do not care to answer, and they will also be free to introduce a bill if they wish."

"If a special session is called for that purpose."

LEADERS HOPEFUL THAT VOTE WILL BE REACHED THIS WEEK

REP. LUTHER JOHNSON BE NAMED ON CONFERENCE COMMITTEE FOR BILL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (P)—The administration's neutrality bill, fought over for four weeks in the senate, was received by the house today.

Hopeful for a final vote by the end of the week, leaders arranged for the rules committee to meet this afternoon to pass upon what Speaker Bankhead described as the "simplest" procedure that could be written for consideration of the measure.

A special "rule" which the committee was expected to adopt, would provide that the bill, which substitutes a cash and carry plan for the present arms embargo, be sent to a joint senate-house committee to compose differences.

The house approved a neutrality bill in June which provided for a limited embargo.

The house is expected to take up the legislation tomorrow.

As house conferees, the speaker said he would name Chairman Bloom (D-NY) of the foreign affairs committee and Representatives Luther A. Johnson (D-Tex), Kee (D-W. Va.), Fish (R-NY) and Eaton (R-NJ), all ranking members of the committee.

Meanwhile, Fish denounced what he described as administration efforts to "shut off" debate on the bill by invoking house "gag" rules.

Take It Or Leave It

Offering the senate neutrality bill to the house on a "take it or leave it" basis, administration leaders took sharp issue today with demands of arms embargo advocates for a chance to revise the legislation.

The administration forces, confident of duplicating their senate victory for embargo repeal and a "cash and carry" trade program, advocates for a chance to revise the legislation.

The senate vote on the original senate bill.

But Rep. Fish (R-NY), leader of the anti-repeal bloc, contended the house had a right to alter the measure as it saw fit.

Although administration lieutenants claimed victory by at least 30 votes, Fish disputed this statement and estimated the margin either side at less than 10 votes.

Fish told reporters that he would carry the fight to permit

Five Small Boys Blasted To Bits In Unknown Way

ROCK SPRINGS, WYO., OCT. 30. (P)—The source of an explosive which blasted five small boys to bits apparently when they set off with a bullet from a borrowed hunting rifle was sought by officers today.

Shirley M. J. Donkowski and Coroner Warden Otto theorized the boys found some dynamite in a coal mining district just north of town yesterday and exploded it by shooting at it.

The dead, all of Rock Springs, were:

O'Dean Grant, 11, and his brother, Gordon, 9, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Grant; Donald Cooper, 8, son of Mrs. James Gilday; David Chamberlain, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Chamberlain; and Valentino Hernandez, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Plino Hernandez.

The explosion scattered parts of the bodies 57 yards. Identification was through bits of clothing, some of which was hanging from nearby telegraph lines.

'BLITZKRIEG' STRIKES U. S. VOCABULARY AS TIME MARCHES ON AND WORLD TRENDS CHANGE

By RUTH COWAN

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (P)—A "blitzkrieg" has struck the American vocabulary. It is the word "blitzkrieg," the latter an evolution no more surprising to him than to some folks who had not been sleeping.

To get up with the age it would have to learn how to spell "totalitarianism" and keep in mind that "lebensraum" is a German means elbow room.

It would soon hear about "Mein Kampf" by A. Hitler, which is—or was prior to the German-Soviet pact—a German best seller. Someone would probably tell him that when an "Hitler" talks about "minutism," he means a chamber-like mimicry.

He would have to do up that other "axis" is not just a connecting rod between two auto wheels but an "understanding" between a certain group of nations. He would find that "anschluss" is a new word and method in getting another guy to join your team—or nation.

One of London's little "evacuees" would know, but poor Rip would probably think a "black-out" was a short skit in a theatrical revue with the lights snapped out at the end to heighten the effect—that's what it used to be.

Our Rip would find life very colorful—"blue" light during "black-out," "red purges," "black shirts," "brown shirts," "silver shirts"—and probably his own dirty shirt.

TEXAS, LOUISIANA DELEGATIONS SEEK COMPLETION ROAD CONSTRUCTION HIGHWAY 31 WEST SOUGHT BY CORSI- CANA DELEGATION

DALLAS, Oct. 30.—(P)—Texas and Louisiana delegations here today urged the Texas State Highway commission to complete an 18-mile gap in the Evangeline highway which the delegates said would shorten the distance to New Orleans by 50 miles.

F. Warren Raggle of Deridder, La., chairman of the Louisiana highway commission, told the Texas commissioners "four and a half years ago, when I was a member of the Louisiana highway commission, we told Texas if they would build an 18-mile stretch of highway we'd build our part."

"We lived up to our part, including the construction of a $10,500,000 bridge over the Mississippi at Baton Rouge. We are still waiting patiently for the 18 miles."

The 1940 program includes other major highways to the Louisiana-Texas line, Raggle said, including a $1,500,000 bridge over the Calcasieu river on the Old Spanish Trail.

"If you'll only build that 18 miles," the Louisiana delegates said, "we're going to deliver the goods. Earl K. Long is going to be the next elected governor and he's a builder. We're going to build farm-to-market roads to every schoolhouse, church house and every graveyard. We have our problems, but we're meeting them."

Would Shorten Route
Judge Beaman Strong of Beaumont told the commission that the construction of a 25-mile project on highway 235 from Deweyville to the Neches river at Beaumont would shorten the distance to New Orleans 50 miles and would result in many advantages to both states.

"We've been waiting a long time," Strong declared. "We want the road we would get from over there."

Former Governor W. P. Hobby and Wright Morrow, president of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, also addressed the delegates. Morrow, in closing the gap, D. J. Thomas, manager of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, also urged the improvement.

Construction of State Highway No. 31 from Corsicana to the McLennan county line was pressed by J. N. Edens Corsicana banker, who said "I've noticed that when the highway commission really wants to build a road, they can find the money somehow."

"Have you ever served on the commission?" asked Commissioner Robert Lee Bobbitt. Receiving a negative answer, Bobbitt said "then you don't know how many roads we really would like to build. But I have never promised anything across the table that we did not do."

"We want you to promise to this—that's what we want," countered Edens.

Too Many Promises
"Isn't that one thing that's the matter with Texas today—a lot of promises that can't be discharged?" asked Bobbitt.

The commissioners explained that the Dallas session was not to make commitments, but to hear promises that could be considered and decided later.

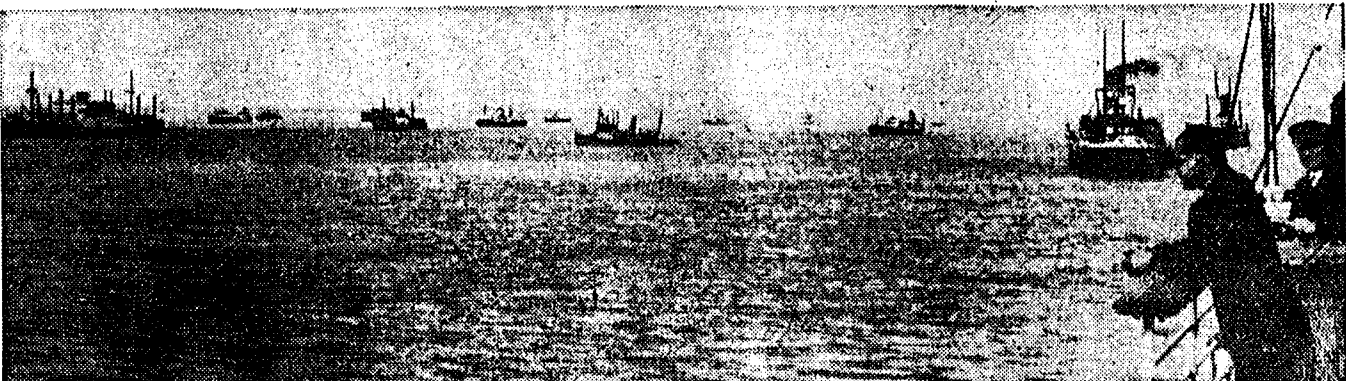

Among other projects discussed before the commission were the proposed extension of highway 317 from McGregor via Crawford to Valley Mills; construction of a double lane on highway 2 north between Waco and Elm Mott; a study of a feasibility of a loop through north Waco connecting highways 7 and 67 with north, and a study of a feasibility of a new route from Waco to Dallas off of highway 31 east of Waco, with a northern terminus, probably at Italy.

Closed Road
Briefs were submitted in support of the projects, together with oral statements by E. W. Crouch of McGregor, Bosque County Judge Earl L. Lovelady of Belton, and J. L. Lovelady of Belton. They said the present road was "crooked and rough." Lovelady invited the commissioners to "take a ride on it sometime when you are in that part of the state."

Mason and Menard county, seeking improvements of highway 151, said their representatives had appeared before the commission in connection with that project several times previously. N. H. Pierce, Menard newspaperman and Mason County Judge, said the road was "a 20-mile stretch which needed topping and repairs. Heavy truck traffic was mentioned."

Dickens County Judge Marshall Torrey, president of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association, read a resolution, passed at a meeting of the association in Lubbock, Oct. 20, in which the delegates expressed their appreciation to the Air Raid Warning.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(P)—Air raid warnings, sounded in London at the height of the morning rush to work, sent thousands scurrying to shelters today, but the air ministry announced the signals were in error and began an investigation.

Some office workers grumbled about the false alarm and speculated on whether German strategy might be to provoke premature precautions with "finger" flights, then capitalize later on the sense of false security thus created.

To Defy Early Closing Order.
LONDON, Oct. 30.—(P)—Shoppers all over Great Britain, holding out for "business as usual" in this war of waiting, have decided to defy an early closing order which went into force today.

The order says stores must close at 6 p. m. week days and 7 p. m. Saturdays, but London has taken advantage of a provision which permits local authorities to extend the limits one hour.

Merchants from other parts of the country met at Birmingham Sunday and voted to ignore the regulation, designed to clear the streets early.

The action opened what some members of parliament called "grievance week" for the House of Commons. When the house meets tomorrow, the opposition has expressed its intention of focusing attention on the government's wartime powers to restrict freedom of speech and the press.

Other complaints concern postal delays, darkness of trains and widespread dislocation of business attributed to control committees and the pooling of supplies.

commission and the state highway engineer. The resolution also called attention to drought conditions in many counties and suggested the use of WPA labor wherever possible on state highways, as a means of cutting down unemployment.

gation of un-Americanism, asked the witnesses how he knew Bridges was a communist.

"I know it because leading members of the communist party," said he, "said he was a communist." McClellan replied.

A decision is now pending in labor department proceedings on whether to deport Bridges as an undesirable alien.

Where Money Came From
McClellan said that sponsors of the allegedly discussed $5,000 to pay for the meeting could be obtained. He testified that when the communist party was mentioned as a source, some objected but Joseph Curran, president of the CIO Maritime union, asked, "what's wrong with that?"

Curran told the committee Saturday that he was not a communist and that his union was not communist.

McClellan told the committee he was born in Paris, Tex., served both in the naval reserve and the army, joined the communist party in 1921 on the Pacific coast, quit the party in 1935, but continued working with it until he returned from Spain last year.

After McClellan said he always had carried a union book, Whitley asked him why he appeared as "a laborer's witness."

"Because if the trade union movement is to survive, the communist party will have to get out and the only way to get rid of it is to acquaint the people with it," the witness replied. "I want to see a nation as stronger and better, rather than be wrecked."

To Attack Dies Committee.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—(P)—While under the accusation that it is "communist-controlled," the American League for Peace and Democracy girded today for a counter-attack on the Dies committee on un-American activities.

Leaders mapped a campaign of reprisal on two fronts—the radio and in the courts.

Culminating an emergency conference here last night, the League authorized its executive committee to consider civil and criminal libel suits against Chairman Martin Dies (D-Texas).

The League chairman, Dr. Harry F. Ward, announced he had asked the Columbia Broadcasting Company for time in which to answer Dies' statements that communists control the League.

Ward said only about 10 per cent of the League's 17,000 members are communists.

GALVESTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—K. Owen National Maritime Union agent, charged in a letter today that Rep. Martin Dies (D-Texas) and the congressional subcommittee investigating un-American affairs apparently had attempted to discredit the NMU at a critical time by questioning its president, Joseph Curran.

Owen said the letter was sent to Dies after NMU leaders of the Western Gulf had met here.

"It appears a very strange coincidence," the letter said, "that you haul our president, Joseph Curran, before your committee at the very period of negotiations (between the NMU and ship owners) were to terminate, and the ship owners were making an attack on the NMU on the question of the hiring hall."

Poland Charges Creation of New Provinces Illegal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—The Polish government told the United States government today it considered Germany's annexation of part of Poland an "illegal act" and therefore "null and void."

In a note to Secretary Hull through Polish Ambassador Count Potocki, the Polish government said Germany's creation of two new provinces called West Prussia and Posen and enlargement of the existing provinces of German Silesia and East Prussia "constitutes a new violation by the Reich of the elementary principles of international law relating to the conduct of an enemy in occupied territory."

Hull said in reply that he had taken note of the Polish government's declaration.

Secretary Hull has refused to recognize the conquest of Poland. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, ambassador to Poland, is still accredited to the new Polish government with provisional headquarters in Paris.

INTERESTING ITEMS FROM HOME AND 4-H CLUBS OF COUNTY

"I repapered my kitchen myself at a very small cost," reported Mrs. Earl Way, kitchen demonstrator for the Jones Ranch Home Demonstration club.

The paper has a white background with a small conventional design in red and black. The cost was small and the lightness of the paper makes the room seem lighter and yet there is enough color in the design to make the walls interesting as well as attractive.

"My frame garden is about five feet wide and twenty-five feet long," said Louise Griffin, garden demonstrator for the Oak Valley 4-H Club.

"I have the frame built of 12 inch lumber and the ground has all been spaded up. The cover is made of cloth which will protect it from the cold and can be rolled back on warm days so the vegetables can get plenty of sun," continued Elouise.

In the same garden she will plant lettuce, radishes, turnips, greens, mustard, carrots, and other quick maturing vegetables. This may be watered if necessary and should be replanted at intervals during the year.

"My 4-H work was centered around canning for the most part until this year, but this year I have really enjoyed sewing," stated Ruth York, clothing demonstrator for the Richland 4-H Club, at the achievement event.

"When I first started to sew I was afraid to cut into a piece of material, but now I have confidence enough to make a man-tailored suit. The coat is a green and black plaid wool with bound buttonholes; the skirt is black wool," continued Ruth.

Ruth's sewing includes: Scarfs, blouses, slips, a house coat, blouses, and dresses of several types.

"I'm going to remake another mattress I have in one of my bedrooms," stated Mrs. C. S. Chisman of the Independence Home Demonstration club, after she and members of the Independence Home Demonstration club had finished making two mattresses at the home, October 12, 1939. "Then all of my mattresses will be in a good condition," she concluded.

One of the mattresses made that day was made of new cotton; the other was remade adding some new cotton. To make a mattress of this type 50 pounds of freshly ginned cotton should be used; if a mattress is to be renovated it is best to have the cotton reginned. Ten yards of regulation eight ounce tick 32 inches wide is needed for each mattress.

CRUSHING RUNNING ATTACK NULLIFIED SPIRITED AERIALS

EAST NAVARRO COUNTIANS ARE NOW FAVORITES FOR DISTRICT 21-B FLAG

By PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor

Kerens Bobcats took a long step toward repeating as district champions at Kerens Friday afternoon with a 19-7 victory over a larger and stubborn herd of Grandview Zebras. The visitors flung passes all over the field when the Bobcats stopped their running attack, and kept the Bobcats' secondary as well as the fans in an uproar during the last half. Two of the three Kerens touchdowns were intercepted passes and the Johnson county boys' marker also was by the aerial route.

Behind the light, but hard-charging and blocking Kerens line, the running game flicked off plenty of yardage, but generally in the vicinity of their own goal and stop the Bobcats along the way.

Kerens rolled up 305 yards from scrimmage while Grandview made only 28 during the afternoon. Kerens lost 37 from scrimmage while Grandview lost 2.

33 Passes Tried.

In the air, however, the Zebras demonstrated their superiority over the East Navarro county wrappers when Kerens' 33 passes were tried, 18 being completed for 177 yards gain. Fourteen were incomplete and 3 intercepted. Kerens completed 1 for 13 yards and 3 were incomplete.

In addition to the line stars for the Bobcats Shelton, Tramel, Gray, and Childress carried the ball well.

Goen, passer for the losers, was an outstanding heaver and the Zebras outplayed the winners.

Kerens returned punts 43 yards and Grandview returned 12. Zebras punting was a 20-yard zone six times to one for Grandview, and made 11 first downs to 10.

The Bobcats drew 35 yards in penalties to 15 for Grandview. Kerens' line, again, beat the Zebras, however, was injured during the contest. The hard-charging and tackling Zebras watched him very closely all the afternoon, especially after he had given them plenty of cause to worry.

Kerens struck pay dirt in the first period after there had been little difference in the play. Zebras fumbled the ball in mid-field and then Grandview completed a pass deep in the Bobcat territory, only to fumble, with an alert Kerens player recovering.

The sensationally running Shelton darted through a hole in the huge Grandview line that had been provided by the Bobcat linemen, eluded several would-be tacklers, literally outran the entire Zebra aggregation for 80 yards and a touchdown. The point after touchdown was missed.

Grandview stopped several times in the second period to stare off a score. Tramel ripped 10 yards to the Zebras' 11-yard stripe and then a pass — the ball on the 5. Shelton was trapped by the fast-charging Zebras linemen and was fumbled for a 10-yard loss, and the ball went over on downs on the 15.

Childress a short time later darted 18 yards to the Grandview 17, but Kerens' Zebras bogged down and the ball went over on downs.

During the third period, Kerens came back strong with Tramel ripping 10 and Childress dived for a 10-yard gain. Kerens then took the ball on the 48. Shelton dashed about 26 yards but Grandview held and gained the ball on her 9.

Graves scored through and caught a batted pass on the Grandview 17 and ran unopposed for the marker and Gray converted to give the Cats a 13-0 margin.

Grandview opened up another batch of passing and one was completed for 22 yards, but the carrier then fumbled and a Kerens boy recovered it on the Kerens 8-yard stripe.

Another series of passes were started by the visitors after Crawford had punted out of immediate danger, and a pass batted an intended receiver in Kerens' end by Kerens literally caught by Couch of Grandview on the 32-yard line and he drove down for the marker. The conversion was good, making the score Kerens 13, Grandview 7.

Grandview was again threatened in the fourth with runs and mostly passes. Kerens finally stopping a drive on her 29.

Gray intercepted Pass.

A short time later, Gray intercepted a Grandview pass and scampered 48 yards for the touchdown that gave the Kerens supporters a much better feeling in the matter, but the Zebras were meeting both short and long passes, and the three Kerens backfield was sorely pressed to cope with the leather slinging ability of the opposition. Shelton was taken from the game with injuries early in the final session.

Both mentors used several substitutes.

These two teams were undefeated for the season in district play.

Kerens, Dwan Crawford and Duncan, ends; Goforth and Ivey, tackles; Baxter; and Miller, guards; Graves, center; Shelton, quarterback; Childress and Tramel, halfbacks; Gray, fullback; Grandview: Covington and Wynn, ends; Pool and B. Brown, tackles; Hewitt and McCauley, guards; Bailey, center; Goen, quarterback; Childress and Tramel, halfbacks; Gray, fullback; Grandview: Covington and Wynn, ends; Pool and B. Brown, tackles; Hewitt and McCauley, guards; Bailey, center; Goen, quarterback; Childress and Tramel, halfbacks; Gray, fullback.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PEACE, DEMOCRACY THREATEN TO SUE

MATTERS UNCOVERED BY DIES COMMITTEE NOT TO LIKING OF PROFESSOR

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—(P)—A threat to sue Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.) over his charges that the American League for peace and democracy is "communist-controlled" stirred 300 league members today as they met in executive conference amid a national storm of controversy about the organization.

Dr. Harry F. Ward, union theological seminary professor and chairman of the league since 1934, declared last night in an interview that if Dies "will waive his congressional immunity we'll slap a libel suit on him."

The league's conference here made the senate Academy of Music resound with the discord of an argument which had these reverberations yesterday elsewhere:

1. President Roosevelt described as "a bad procedure" the action of Dies' house committee investigating un-American activities in making public the names of government employees on the peace league's membership and mailing list.

2. Representative Dies replied in a speech before the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs that he is determined to expose "communists in key federal positions."

3. The Baltimore Sun said that Roger N. Baldwin, director of the American Civil Liberties Union, sent to the league's Philadelphia conference a letter of resignation "asserting he could no longer work effectively with the communist elements of the organization."

"Dies' charges against the league are a stick used to beat the administration with," Dr. Ward commented.

He accused Dies of "conducting a witch hunt through newspaper headlines," compared committee inquiries to "Spanish inquisition" and described the investigation as "the first attempt at government by committee in American history—and if he (Dies) can get away with it we'll have a dictatorship."

The league chairman said two of the 25 members of the organization's executive committee are admitted communists and about 10 percent of "our 17,000 members are admitted communists."

"It is obviously ridiculous," he added, "to claim that any organization with such a small percentage of communists is 'communist-controlled.'"

SEEK REMOVAL OF EARL K. LONG AS GOVERNOR LOUISIANA

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 28.—(P)—Proceedings intended to remove from office Gov. Earl K. Long, announced today by the state general assembly, were filed here by two citizens.

Robert L. O'Neal and Miss Julia L. Broughton, mandamus proceedings, filed with the state district attorney Deway J. Sanchez to accept an ouster suit against Long and Gardner.

Sanchez refused to accept the suit, O'Neal and Broughton appealed to District Judge Charles A. Holcombe who ordered the district attorney to show cause Nov. 13 why he should not accept the suit.

Gardner was named attorney general after Long, backed by state police, removed David Ellison from the office. He claimed Ellison was a Communist.

Sanchez, in refusing to acknowledge the ouster suit, said he believed the only manner in which a governor could be removed was by impeachment.

GERMAN PLANE IS FORCED DOWN WHEN NEAR EDINBURGH

TWO NAZI AIRMEN KILLED, ONE WOUNDED AND ANOTHER WAS CAPTURED

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(P)—Two German airmen were killed, one wounded and a Nazi pilot captured today in an aerial drama witnessed by hundreds of Scots near Edinburgh when British fighter planes engaged and forced down a German warplane.

The air ministry announced that "a German aircraft which was attempting reconnaissance was forced down by our fighters this morning east of Dalkeith (about six and one half miles southeast of Edinburgh)."

The invader apparently was headed for the strategic Firth of Forth, objective of previous German raids.

Later, an air raid warning was issued in the Orkney Islands, surrounding the Scapa Flow naval anchorage, when a plane was seen but the plane was reported to have been shot down.

Immediately the Nazi plane was sighted, British ships went aloft with a resulting rare display of aerobatics as the German pilot tried desperately to shake off his attackers.

Finally the German plane came down on a hillside and struck a stone wall, and even then the pilot would not give up, "one watching said. 'He tried to get his machine into the wall and then he jumped out and ran along the rough ground for about a half mile before he had to stop.'"

An air raid alarm in the Firth of Forth area of Scotland lasted half an hour.

Bullets Flung In Street.

Machinegun bullets fell in the main street of one town and several spent bullets scattered a few yards from the police station.

The only warning given the town's inhabitants was the sound of the firing. Some residents said this was the second occasion on which raiders had been driven off without the alarm sirens sounding.

No bombs were dropped in populated centers.

Air raid precaution personnel also was put on the alert for a half hour in northern Ireland.

A spokesman for the British press association said the German plane tried desperately to shake off the British fighters and that more than 100 people gathered at one place to watch the air drama.

The witness said, the German plane "came down on a hillside and struck a stone wall and even then the pilot would not give up."

He tried to get the machine into the wall and ran along the ground for about half a mile before he had to stop.

Watches Economic Situation

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(P)—Great Britain, pictured authoritatively today as driving her war-regimented industries to increase sales to the United States and other American countries for dollars with which to buy war materials.

The nation also is trying to keep as much as possible at home through producing domestically what formerly was bought abroad, particularly food, and through strict control of the export of foreign exchange necessary to buy American goods.

By buying less and selling more abroad, officials hope for speedy recovery of Britain's business life from the first shocks of the war.

Change Is Unlikely.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(P)—Authoritative British circles said today it was unlikely that Great Britain would change her present control system as a result of Soviet Russia's objections.

These sources said the British felt their contraband control program was firmly grounded on international law.

Pioneer Literary Club of Kerens Had Program on Mexico

KERENS, Oct. 28.—(P)—The Pioneer Literary Club offered a treat to members and their guests Friday at 10 a. m., when they met in the home of Mrs. H. A. Quate for the annual guest day program with Mrs. J. B. Coates, A. B. Keen and Cleve Owen co-hostesses.

Mrs. W. R. Hughes of Dallas, authority on the subject, spoke on "Mexico, Its Arts and Crafts." Bringing with her numberless specimens of the country's handicraft work, which she exhibited as she explained the meaning and most interesting account of habits, customs, arts and crafts of the peon class. Through her many trips to the colorful country, she made the mistakes of her subject in a masterful way, but brought human interest into the narrative, and completely charmed her audience of some 50 women.

During the lecture, a delectable salad plate, with Mexican pralines was served by the hostesses, who added the finishing touch of brilliance to the affair. Hughes gave a talk on the beautiful costumes of Mexico, each one authentic in design and workmanship, and being a part of Mrs. Hughes' collection. Featured on the dining room table of the Quate home was a large wooden tray of brightly colored fruits and vegetables, while on the buffet the Mexican dietaries in a beautiful setting of berries and the excellent bread completed a pretty picture in keeping with the subject under discussion.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE — Sun Sports Editor

Twenty-four wins and twelve losses were this department's batting record in predictions last week.

It was a bitter disappointment to the Bengals and their supporters to lose to Waco Friday night, but that combination was inspired and clicking to perfection and for the night at least, had the better club. That is little consolation, however, but is better than dropping a decision to an inferior combination. Ennis came through as we predicted with a win over Cleburne. Brvan did not look too potent against Waxahachie.

Waco can probably win the state title if a kicker is developed and the club continues to improve and play like they did here Friday night, but we doubt if they develop a punter. We also seriously doubt whether Waco will play another game as well as they did Friday night. Waco received the breaks and capitalized on them. The Waco players proclaimed that the Corsicana line had been removed and abolished, and they have some basis for their proud claim, for haven't they socked the Bengals four years in a row, scoring 110 points to 14 that night?

It was a great tribute to Little Wally Spencer Friday night when the Wacoans refused to kick to him, deliberately kicking out of bounds even if it was only five yards. That was a tribute to a high school performer as well as a deliberately sacrificing yards after yards just to keep him from getting his hands on the ball. It was just another example of a team playing to win. It was a threat—that happened to be Spencer—and they did a perfect job.

The Waco game, however, is past history. The question you are asking is whether the Corsicana line will be removed and abolished, and they have some basis for their proud claim, for haven't they socked the Bengals four years in a row, scoring 110 points to 14 that night?

The following statement relative to the Waxahachie-Corsicana tilt here Friday night: "Still minus a football, Coach E. M. Tampke's Waxahachie Indians will begin preparations tomorrow afternoon for the District 10-AA clash with Corsicana Friday night at the Navarro county seat. Bryson's Buccaneers mustered a last quarter passing attack with a water-soaked field to defeat the Indians at Bryan Friday night 19 to 13 in a district contest."

CRY OF 'DRAFT ROOSEVELT' IS EXPECTED TO BE STARTED AS PART OF POLITICAL PLAN

By W. B. RAGSDALE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(P)—The White House disapproval of Secretary Wallace's third term proposal emphasizes the likelihood that a cry of "Draft Roosevelt" will be ringing through the leaflets of the nation's youth.

The crowd might be taken as a clear hint that President Roosevelt will have no present intention of being an active candidate for a third term nomination. Yet, by no stretch of the imagination does it bar him from the running.

It puts stress on the inept timing of the Wallace declaration, though made by a wholly loyal member of the Roosevelt official family. A fight for removal of the arms embargo was just reaching its critical stage in the senate. These are the things which a division of sentiment is yet to be fought in the house. The Republicans had been urged to forget partisan politics for the time.

The Wallace statement could do more than unseat the lips of the Republicans at a poor time for inter-party disputes. The tentacles of the Democrats are reaching out to anything like one piece of strongly woven canvas. It is a crazy quilt patchwork of compromises, and the air of a cloud can be felt at any moment. Leaders hope the calm will remain until the embargo is removed.

Both in the delicate situation existing between the United States and Germany, and the prompt emphasis of the White House, the whole story does not lie in the arms embargo situation, however.

Some of Mr. Roosevelt's closest friends are convinced that he has not again his mind whether to end the embargo. These are the things which a division of sentiment is yet to be fought in the house. The Republicans had been urged to forget partisan politics for the time.

FRANCE DELIGHTED AT REPEAL EMBARGO ON ARMS; BRITAIN NOT DISSATISFIED; GERMANY SILENT

(By The Associated Press)

France welcomed with undisguised joy today the United States senate's vote to repeal the arms embargo, while Britain's indicated it was dissatisfied that Germany was where the news was withheld from the public—maintained silence.

Paris was informed by glaring headlines in the morning newspapers.

Stated by the possibility of obtaining more American-made warplanes—which apparently have proved their dependability on the western front—the French cautiously considered the senate vote probable of an administrative victory in the house.

One newspaper referred to the development as "a victory for President Roosevelt, who is supported by the majority of the American public."

In Britain, the senate vote caused some surprise in official quarters, which apparently had expected a tight fight. The British press was outspoken, seeing reason for encouragement. The Daily Mail commented: "It cannot now be concealed that the prospect of such a vast war machine as America offers comes as a tonic encouragement to the nations fighting the cause of democracy."

The Daily Sketch remarked that "the news from Washington will make poor reading for Hitler, but it may hurry him into doing something on the western front." Headlines in the Herald said "Good news! Britain will get arms from U. S. A."

FRENCH DECLARE GERMAN SUBMARINE WAS SUNK THURSDAY

TWO EXECUTIONS FOR ES- PIONAGE SHARE INTEREST IN GENERAL WAR NEWS

PARIS, Oct. 28.—(P)—Proof of the sinking of a German submarine last Thursday was said by French sources to have been established today coincident with semi-official announcement that French armed vessels and seaplanes had been particularly active.

"Several direct attacks have been carried out and it appears one of them at least has been successful," the statement said. Bodies of five German sailors and a German officer were reported found off the coast, establishing proof, the French said, of destruction of the submarine which "apparently had been literally torn apart by the explosion of a depth bomb."

The location of the attack was not disclosed.

(Dispatches from Dover, England, reported yesterday the bodies of more than 50 German seamen had been recovered from the wreckage washed up on the Goodwin Sands, five miles from the Kent coast. It was not immediately clear whether the French announcement referred to this incident.)

Sharing attention with the announcement of this naval success were two executions for espionage.

A military firing squad carried out the sentence of death on Dr. Karl Roos, 60-year-old Altman automobile leader, and a soldier companion named Lobstein, who were convicted of treason and espionage in behalf of Germany.

The French military staff, meanwhile, continued to watch ostentatious German military preparations in the Saarland, which they believed might be designed to distract attention from a surprise move elsewhere along the western front.

The German preparations were so obvious that one well-informed military commentator suggested the Nazis might be planning an attack between Westphalia and the Rhine—east of the Saar—with a simultaneous thrust through the Netherlands on their north.

A general staff communiqué described the night attack along the entire front, military sources told of continued aerial reconnaissance, however, which had disclosed German troop concentrations west of Bremen.

The senior expert of a German submarine had been sunk said the crew apparently had attempted to escape in deep water through the conning tower, but the mechanics lunged. The number of bodies recovered was not specified.

Military sources reported units as strong as 150 men were used by the Nazis in the attack at various parts of the front yesterday and that all attacks were repulsed. These sources said German artillery fire along the 100 miles between the Rhine and the Moselle was growing in intensity.

Nazis Minimize Importance

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—(P)—Authorized sources said today the United States senate's vote to repeal the arms embargo would be considered in Germany's eyes as an act in favor of the western allies, but minimized its importance.

Farm Boy Gets Croix De Guerre

PARIS, Oct. 28.—(P)—Ritter Philippe, 17-year-old Alsace farm boy, is the first civilian to receive the Croix De Guerre in this war.

French dispatches locust attack was working in a field when a German pilot landed his warplane nearby, strode to Ritter with drawn revolver and demanded, "Where am I?"

Ignoring the revolver, he fled to his bicycle and pedaled away to notify a French patrol, which arrested the pilot before he could set fire to the plane.

Many French Soldiers Released

PARIS, Oct. 28.—(P)—The government today announced that many older men serving with the colors and those of any age who have been or may be called upon to return to their homes.

Despite reports of evidence of an imminent German offensive an order was published which is expected to release well over 100,000 men.

It frees the entire class of 1910, or men 40 years old; all fathers of four or more children regardless of their ages; all men aged 18 or over who are fathers of three children and all aged 45 or over who are fathers of two children.

Armless Woman Arizona Highway Gave Birth Child

SAFFORD, Ariz., Oct. 28.—(P)—An armless woman who gave the birth of a child here, Oklahoma City, a hitchhiker, gave birth to a baby girl at 3 a. m. today while lying beside the highway in near freezing temperature.

Sheriff Emert Kempton, who brought the mother and baby to a hospital here, said Mr. Mole was lying "on the cold, wet ground, without bedding and with very little clothing," when the baby came.

At the hospital an attendant said the mother and baby were "doing splendidly" you wouldn't know but what the baby was born in the hospital."

Kempton said Mrs. Matthew, her husband Charles, and three small children, a boy eight and two girls, five and six—were hitchhiking back to Oklahoma and had stopped for the night on U. S. Highway 70 about six miles east of here. They were without funds.

Mrs. Matthews, 38, said the baby was her first.

The baby weighed 8 3/4 pounds.

PLenty OF COTTON FOR NEEDS OF WORLD EVEN WITH NEW WAR

LITTLE FOUNDATION FOR BELIEF THAT DEMAND WILL RAISE PRICES

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 30.—(P)—War or no war, there is still plenty of cotton.

The fact that a general feeling among farmers and the cotton industry generally that war will increase the price of cotton and improve the price. The general price advance in early September came from a surplus of cotton, but the fact that war-time demands would bring further advances.

Actually, as H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. and M. extension service and member of the National Agricultural Advisory Council, points out, there is little foundation for this belief. Price and experts fell off instead of increasing at the beginning of the last war.

U. S. Department of Agriculture figures, prepared by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, show that for the 11-13 months of the 1914-15 season spot prices at New Orleans averaged a little under 8-1/2 cents compared with an average of 13-1/2 cents for the 12 months ending July, 1914, and a five-year average of 13 cents.

Total exports of American cotton for the 1914-15 season were less than in 1913-14 by 600,000 bales or 7 per cent and exports from India dropped 1,400,000 bales, or 44 per cent below those of the previous season.

In the first two years of the war, U. S. foreign consumption of cotton dropped 100,000 bales. In the third and fourth years of the war further reductions occurred abroad, and only a slight increase in consumption was noted in the United States.

It was two full years after the war began before domestic prices climbed back to 13 cents, the pre-war level, and then, gaily because the 1915 American crop was nearly 5 million bales less than that of the previous year.

Everything went up in 1917-1918, cotton to an average New Orleans price of 27.83 cents, but, apparently was due to rapidly advancing general price levels and another short crop.

The important thing to remember is that there is a lot more cotton in the world now than there was 25 years ago. When the World War began, the world's stockpile of cotton was 3,769,000 bales of cotton; today the carryover is in the neighborhood of 14,123,000 bales.

The record shows that world consumption of cotton dropped during the last war, it is hardly likely that consumption will increase during the present one. For one thing, assuming that warring nations want more cotton, how are they going to get it, what are blockades and submarine attacks and what are they doing?

What increase comes in the price of cotton will come with generally rising price levels. It does seem probable that domestic cotton consumption will average considerably higher than in the past year.

But war or no war, there is still plenty of cotton, and apparently an expansion of production in the 1940 crop is not warranted.

Two Men Held For Investigation By City Officers

RICE OUTCLASSED POWELL FRIDAY IN SIX-MAN FOOTBALL

SWAFFORD LED BULLDOGS TO TRIUMPH OVER THE PANTHERS, 36-6

POWELL, Oct. 30.—(P)—The Rice Bulldogs, led by Porter Swafford, defeated the Powell Panthers in Six Man football by the overwhelming score of 36 to 6 on the Rice gridiron Friday afternoon. This was the fifth successive win for the Bulldogs, further strengthening their bid for the championship. The Panthers, led by Swafford, were again the star of the Rice team, but Pollan, Murf, and Cave were outstanding players. It was a treat to watch the machine-like precision of all the Rice team. The Powell Panthers made a valiant effort to stop the onslaught of the Bulldogs, but they had very little success.

Powell kicked off to Rice who, without loss of the ball, scored a touchdown by Swafford going through the center for the last few yards. The try for point by a drop kick was unsuccessful. The first quarter ended with the score 6 to 0 in favor of Rice.

Near the middle of the second quarter Swafford, on a fourth down, ran around his own right end for 22 yards carrying the ball over the Panther goal for another touchdown for the Bulldogs. The try for point by a drop kick failed, leaving the score Rice 12 and Powell 0. The Bulldogs recovered a Panther fumble and a 15-yard pass from Pollan to Cave was good for another Rice touchdown.

The try for points by a drop kick was wide making the score Rice 18, Powell 0. Just before the close of the first half, Pollan threw a pass to Wigginton which resulted in another touchdown for Rice. The try for points by a drop kick was complete, which made the score Bulldogs 25 and Panthers 0.

Powell Scored.

At the beginning of the second half, Powell kicked to Rice. After the Bulldogs gained for a loss through the line, McKinney intercepted one of their passes. Two runs by Gilcrease and one by Massey put the ball on the Bulldogs' 5 yard line in the Panthers'

A FIRE-EATER'S FINISH

A striking little idyll of war and peace was written the other day by Thomas R. Henry, American foreign correspondent for the N.A.A. It was an old theme, but seemed new, dealing with the former Kaiser Wilhelm in his Holland retreat. In the early days of the last war, his voice shook the world. Today he is a quiet old man sawing a little wood, reading the newspapers and doing kindly deeds.

The new war breaks in upon his dreams, in his cattle with a medieval moat around it, waking him with army trumpets. "The little town of Doorn is highly militarized. Country roads are congested with soldiers and army trucks. Big country houses and public buildings have been taken over as army billets and offices. The town hall is plastered with placards regarding mobilization and military occupancy."

"The soldiers, of course, are not there because of the old man. Doorn happens to be a mobilization point, conveniently close to the great dike-breaking experiment east of Amerfoort. To the soldiers, the ex-Kaiser is only an object of curiosity. They have talked with the townsfolk about him and heard only praise for his kindness and his local charities."

And this is the man who filled the world with his roaring 25 years ago. He was the Hitler of the last great war.

Will the Fuehrer be like him 25 years from now? And will the troops be marching then, and the big guns booming again, to the oratory of another world-shaker?

THE GREAT CROSS-ROADS

Another chapter is added to the great epic of Troy and the Dardanelles, in the new treaty by which Turkey keeps those famous straits open to traffic.

There is the most famous of the world's cross-roads, with its land crossing from Asia to Europe and its water route from the Mediterranean to the Black Sea. It is the key to two continents, though less vital than in ancient times. The Dardanelles preserve the name Dardanus, ancestor of the Trojans of whom Homer sang, at the time of the famous war about 3,000 years ago.

The city of Troy, as a trading post, stronghold and toll-gate, must have been thousands of years older than that. Schliemann, the great German archaeologist, found there the remains of no less than 18 successive cities, one above another, on the height commanding the plain above the straits.

ARGENTINE TRADE

Providentially a big market for our products seems to have opened in South America. The most inviting opportunity just now is Argentina, where our exporters have never had a fair chance before.

The people there regard us as rivals and ordinarily do not like us very well. They have been better disposed toward European countries, especially Britain and Germany. There were two reasons for that. First, Britain and Germany both treated them more courteously and gave them the credits to which they were accustomed. Second, both repudiated by buying from Argentina, thus enabling the Argentine exporters to

FAMILY PRIDE

Well, life at the most as I see it
Is mixture of pleasure and pain,
Of worth and the striving to be it,
And folly again and again.
The goal of the bravest and weakest
Is peace and a neighbor's esteem,
And the aim of the boldest and meekest
Is something that lies in a dream.

The fortunate gather up riches.
The luckless with less must abide,
But life has an ultimate, which is
Summed up in contentment and pride.

And the roof which has sheltered
Good feeling
And warmth 'gainst the tempests that blow,
Hears laughter from floorboard to ceiling,
Has all that great wealth can bestow.

The joy of a lifetime is seeing
Beyond all the heartache and pain
The son a responsible being,
The daughter with never a stain.
And it isn't a matter of wages
Or shrewdness or strength or acclaim.
The ultimate joy of old age is
The family proud of its name.

TRAINED WORKMEN NEEDED.

There is great need today for the immediate expansion of apprentice training for industries which, in a national emergency, would be of major importance in the defense of the country. Acting Secretary Edison of the Navy and Assistant Secretary Johnson of the Army urge industrial action in this regard as "a vital element in national defense."

"The rising trend of business activity in recent weeks," they said in a recent joint statement, "has accentuated the demand for skilled personnel, and it is anticipated that a continuance of this trend will reveal shortages throughout industry which may seriously interfere with the existing programs of the army and navy."

Training of apprentices in the skilled trades, they pointed out, has fallen below the requirements for normal replacements and is therefore far below the requirement for a time of emergency.

Apprentice training is most needed for tool makers, draftsmen, technicians and various specialized trades connected with aviation and shipbuilding.

No doubt something should be done about this promptly. The situation suggests that it should be done even if no emergency threatened. Such training is one of the needs of America's jobless youth today.

balance their trade. We mostly demanded cash on the barrel-head, and offered no compensating market.

Now our manufacturers and merchants can get about $100,000,000 worth of business a year down there, and our government and people can probably win and keep the friendly co-operation of the most enterprising country in all Latin-America, if we go about it tactfully and intelligently.

But the first essential is that we consent, while shipping goods to the Argentinians, to accept some of their goods in return. And there's the rub. Too many of us still try to make our export trade a one-way traffic, shipping goods out and taking none in return, so that prospective foreign buyers have no way to pay us.

Watching a procession of these new automobile models coming toward you at night you might think it's another Martian invasion conducted by General Orson Welles.

Wouldn't it be more rational to settle world problems by the Olympic games? We could make that process ethical by calling a tug of war.

Stay home and stick to the job, and you won't have to worry about submarines.

England needs more mine-sweepers to keep her harbors ship-shape.

It takes a few stiff punches to make John Bull mad enough to fight.

SPEAKING OF WAR SCARES—!SWAMPS AND BIRDS

Wild life, like tame life, is intelligent and progressive, taking advantage of opportunities and responding to efforts made in its behalf. The federal government reports that in the realm of waterfowl, for instance, additional refugees provided in recent years have already brought a large increase in a bird population which had been diminished in numbers.

There are now 13,500,000 acres of marsh land devoted to this purpose. The result is the production of more game for hunters, more interesting wild life for people to observe and enjoy, and improvement in the value and use of such areas in many ways. Preserving the marshes, for example, is found to have a wholesome influence on rainfall, climate and water supply, along with encouragement of interesting and useful wild life of many kinds.

The mistaken notion that all swamps should be drained and cultivated is now abandoned, giving way to a belief that Nature herself knows something about these matters.

ALCOHOLISM'S TURN

The doctors are going after alcoholism with the same vigor and thoroughness they have already put into their winning fight against tuberculosis and diphtheria and their research into the causes and treatment of cancer and other ailments still baffling them.

A research council on problems of alcohol has been formed, with the support and co-operation of many organizations, such as the Carnegie Corporation, hospitals, medical colleges and others.

The recently announced program of the council includes three principal studies for immediate consideration. They are a critical survey of all the work done to date on the effects of alcohol upon the individual, the toxic factors in alcoholism and the role of alcohol in liver cirrhosis.

Alcoholism, a member of the council emphasizes, is a disease for which the patient often is not responsible. The present task is to find its causes and better methods for preventing and treating it. The next step will be to make the results of the work widely known. Education, which has been a potent force in all successful health work to date, is expected to help make the present fight effective.

High Praise For Luther A. Johnson By Capital Writer

A high compliment to the ability and neutrality of Luther A. Johnson of Corsicana, representative of the Sixth district of Texas in Congress, was paid by Ralph Smith, national capital representative of the Atlanta (Ga.) Journal in his column "Crackerland in Washington" appearing on October 20.

Under the heading "Illogical Non-Interventionists," the writer has the following to say in part: "Washington, Oct. 20.—Luther Johnson, one of the ablest Texas representatives, finds one of the basic arguments of the non-interventionists illogical. They say, 'It would be an unnatural act, and calculated to plunge us into war, if we should repeal the embargo on arms, because, forsooth, it would be injurious to Germany, they blindly and stubbornly refuse to see and admit that it would be equally injurious to us to restrict our ships from carrying goods to France and England—goods of a non-contraband nature—yet they appreciate that such a prohibition by the United States would be injurious to Britain and her ally.'"

The observation of the Texan stresses rather convincingly a weakness in the position of the isolationist group that none has attempted to defend, although all of their leaders, from Borah down have expressed a willingness to accept 'sell and carry,' as proposed by Wendell Willkie, the embargo on arms is retained.

"They are agreeable in a word to prohibiting the United States from shipping anything at all to any of the belligerents. If Britain and France want our cotton, wheat, if they want anything we have for sale, other than arms and ammunition, the isolationists are willing that they shall be required to pay for it on the barrel head and then transport it across the sea at their own risk."

Card of Thanks.

We wish to take this method of thanking all those who were so kind to us during the illness and death of our husband and father, Tom Sharp. We wish also to thank all who sent the beautiful floral offerings. Let us assure you that every act of kindness will never be forgotten.

Conservation Crop Valuable.

CROSBYTON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Carter Chase, farmer near here, has sold his 800-acre cane crop to ranchers and others for filling trench silos. From the first 200 acres he netted about $1,500. The cane averaged eight tons to the acre. Chase planted the cane in order to protect his land and keep it from blowing.

WALLIE LEVY BEEN NAMED CHAIRMAN OF RED CROSS ROLL CALL

J. N. GARITTY, CHAIRMAN OF CHAPTER, ANNOUNCES SELECTION CORSICANAN

W. B. "Wallie" Levy will lead Navarro county's Red Cross roll call this year.

His appointment has been announced by Jim Nick Garitty, chapter chairman. "We realize that the Red Cross is faced with a tremendously serious problem this year, both locally and nationally," Mr. Garitty said. "For this reason, the executive committee of the chapter devoted an unusual amount of time and thought in choosing the right man for roll call chairman."

He said that demands for disaster relief this year were greater than at any time in the history of the American Red Cross. The Red Cross contributed $2,500,000 in helping more than 100,000 American disaster victims, Mr. Garitty said.

Other Red Cross responsibilities have increased, especially the organization's official work with the United States Army and Navy doubled in number as a result of the European war. The roll call of the 5,000 members.

Mr. Levy's job will be to increase Navarro county's membership in the Red Cross from 1,202 members in 1938 to more than 3,000 in 1939.

"Other Texas counties with less resources than Navarro have enrolled twice the membership of this county," he said.

"But we know that Navarro county people, many of whom have personally received help from the Red Cross during time of disaster, will join the Red Cross. Our problem is to make sure that each one is invited."

Mr. Levy is already working to enlist the aid of the community leaders to take specific responsibility for different divisions of the roll call.

Mr. Levy has divided Corsicana into business and residential districts, school, special groups, government agencies and colored solicitation and plans to appoint a chairman for out-of-town enrollment.

This year's roll call chairman was selected by the board and returned here four years ago to assist in the management of the Corf estate.

Played on Football Team. While attending Corsicana high school, he played football on the football team of 1905.

He then moved to Waxahachie to work in a dry goods store. Later he set up his own business in Bardwell, moving in 1917 to Bell county.

During the war he was an army supply sergeant at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio. He moved to Rogers after the war.

In 1925 Mr. Levy organized a dry goods business in Cameron that he operated until his return to Corsicana in 1935.

Mr. Levy is married to the former Miss Effie Kirk of Cameron and lives at 1560 West Fourth street.

Mrs. John Curlington, Jr., has been appointed roll call secretary to assist Mr. Levy.

Temporary offices have been opened at room 304 in the State National Bank building. The State National Bank building has donated this space to the Navarro County chapter of the American Red Cross.

ACTIVITIES LOCAL NYA GIRLS DURING PAST PERIOD GIVEN

The N. A. girls of group one have just finished a two weeks period which began October 11th. A house meeting was called on the night of the 11th. New officers were elected and each girl pledged renewed interest in the center and the training in the different phases of home economics.

On Thursday, October 12, Miss Smart, home economics teacher, was sent to Krens to open the new center there. Mrs. Nance, area supervisor of girls; Mrs. Curran, area supervisor of girls of Rio Grande Valley, and Mr. Bascham, area supervisor, visited the center. After a careful inspection of the house, they made many suggestions for home improvement. T. J. Moon, Jr., area timekeeper, also visited the center.

The girls attended a meat cutting demonstration which was given by the butcher at Collins Cash Grocery. They also visited Walker's Frozen Food and private cold storage lockers and enjoyed a lecture given by Miss Vivian Walker. The supervisor gave a demonstration on how to make water milk cream. The home economics teacher gave a demonstration on the proper way to clean an ice-box.

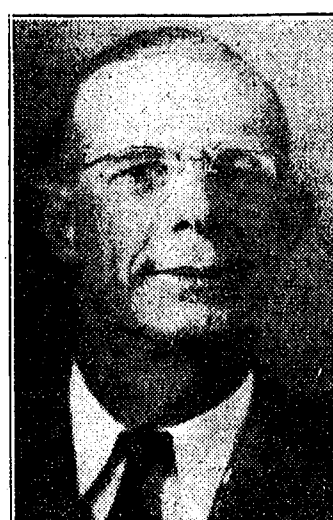

Handicrafting on the bedspread was resumed and one of the girls has started one which she intends to make herself. Fifteen napkins were designed and made for the tables. A stand was made for the wash tub. Each of the girls did small hand work with wood which was sawed from apple boxes. Some of the girls made belts with woolen thread. The living suits floors were waxed. Many new records were tested during the period. Each time a receipt is tested and liked by the girls, it is filed for future use.

The girls began basket ball practice at the Y. M. C. A. on October 17. They worked out every day from 1:30 to 3:30.

On October 19 a house meeting was held. Miss Huffhines, our new home economics teacher, was welcomed by the house manager in behalf of the girls.

Visitors during the period were Beth Wiggs of Blooming Grove; Miss Florence Caskey, Miss Faye Caskey, and Mrs. Friday of Dawson; Mrs. Britton of Emmett; Rita Britton of Emmett; Odessa Hollingsworth of Blooming Grove; Mrs. Meissner of Kilgore; Mrs. J. Mayo of Longview; and Mrs. Garvin of Groves.

OVERWHELMING VOTE IN FAVOR OF ARMS SALE BILLEMENTS

WAY CLEARED FOR PASSAGE OF ADMINISTRATION'S NEU- TRALITY BILL IN FULL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The senate voted today to repeal the embargo against sale of arms to Europe's warring nations. The vote was 67 for repeal to 22 against.

The action cleared the way for passage of the administration neutrality bill, which in addition to ending the embargo, also would set up a limited cash and carry system of commerce with belligerents.

Thereafter vote, reached on the 20th day of the senate's history-making neutrality debate, came in support of the bill (D-NR) to discard the administration measure and substitute a bill, similar to that of the administration, except that it would maintain the existing ban on arms sales.

Repeal of the embargo was recommended by President Roosevelt when he called congress into session last month. Although it was but one of his recommendations for revising the neutrality law, it immediately became the crux of the entire foreign policy fight in the senate. All sides agreed the effect of repeal would be to give aid to England and France in their war with Germany, but many repeal proponents argued the present embargo is unneutral. Opponents of repeal, on the other hand, argued that action would be unneutral.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Driving toward passage of the administration's neutrality bill by a majority, an overwhelming senate majority turned aside today an amendment to ban armed merchant vessels and submarines of belligerent nations from United States ports.

The proposal, by Senator Clark (D-Mo), lost out 68 to 26, the heavy preponderance of votes which supported the administration being in line with voting on other controverted amendments earlier in the week.

The day was the twentieth of senate debate and events moved at what was, for the senate, extraordinary speed as a result of a compromise between the Democratic Leader Barkley last night that no senator should speak more than 20 minutes on an amendment.

The administration leaders predicted final passage of the measure—with its provision for repealing the arms embargo—late in the day.

On the house side, it was learned that leaders last night tentatively agreed on procedure by which they hope to get final congressional action on the bill a week from tomorrow night.

Barkley conferred with administration lieutenants last night and reported afterward that more than 65 of the 96 senators would vote for the neutrality bill.

When the senate debate began, it was expected that the bill would be passed by a large margin, but it was expected that the debate would be stiffened by opposition forces in the house, which will consider the bill next week.

Senator Clark (D-Mo) a leading opponent of repeal, asserted the senate debate had made it "absolutely clear" that European countries could not expect the United States to participate again in a European conflict.

The senate vote in session eight hours yesterday in an attempt to clean up a score of amendments, but opponents objected to meeting after the dinner hour.

Although previously confident of their strength, administration leaders said their expectations had been borne out by yesterday's test vote on an amendment to prevent repeal of the arms embargo.

The amendment proposed by Senator Downey (D-Calif.) would have forbidden arms sales to all foreign nations except states in the American continents at war with non-American countries.

When the senate bill goes to the house, both sides expect a close fight, which will last only two or three days. The house voted last summer for a modified arms embargo.

Proving Neutrality False.
HOUSTON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—J. B. Merrell, district director of the National Maritime Union, says the presence of American ships in the war zone is proving a hazard to United States neutrality.

He declared last night the seizure of the City of Flint confirms the Union's contention along this line.

Merrell asserted three Lykes Brothers ships would be tied up at the docks here without crews by Sunday, because the shipping company has not met seamen's demands for bonuses for entering the war zone. He added:

"Bonus or no bonus, we don't want our men forced to sail American vessels into the war zone under any conditions, for the presence of American vessels and European waters is a constant hazard to American neutrality and we want no part whatever in bringing this country into the war."

Washington, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex) told the senate yesterday a story about a German agent during the pre-war period who boasted that he had been able to get the South Sea Islands to join the war, Connally said, "I am sure that the German agent was a canny fellow."

He told the senate this was a story about a German agent who had been able to get the South Sea Islands to join the war, Connally said, "I am sure that the German agent was a canny fellow."

The announcement was made by Mrs. Walter Castles, secretary.

It was also announced members of the Retail Merchants Association would observe November 30 as Thanksgiving.

INITIAL ENCYCICAL OF POPE PIUS XII IS DELIVERED FRIDAY

APPEALS FOR REAL PEACE TREATIES AND CRITICIZES DICTATORSHIPS

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII today condemned governments, which assume "that absolute autonomy which belongs exclusively to the Supreme Maker" and offered consolation to dismembered Poland.

In his first encyclical of his reign the Pontiff, after recounting the failure of his efforts for peace, also pleaded for settlements at the end of the present European war.

He blamed denial of "the authority of God and the sway of his law" for the rise of governments in the world, the state "the last end of life."

The war, he said, would fail to impose a decisive change in conditions—unless followed by treaties of peace—unless followed by justice and by equity toward all.

He warned "there is danger lest settlements be born in such conditions" as "sacrifices and sufferings."

At the same time, he said, respect for treaties was indispensable to peace.

"As we write these lines," the Pope said, "the terrible news comes to us that the dread tempest of war is already raging in spite of all our efforts to avert it."

He said "new errors" added to the "doctrinal aberrations of the past" had led to the present "extremes which lead inevitably to a drift toward chaos."

Authority of God Denied.
"Once the authority of God and the sway of his law are denied," the Pope said, "the state is left to itself, and the result is a drift toward chaos."

He said "new errors" added to the "doctrinal aberrations of the past" had led to the present "extremes which lead inevitably to a drift toward chaos."

PRESIDENT BRANDS COMMITTEE'S ACTION 'SORDID PROCEDURE'

DISCUSSES ACTION OF DIES PROBERS IN PUBLICATION OF ROLLS OF LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt branded as "sordid procedure" today publication by the Dies committee of the names of more than 500 government employees on the "membership and mailing list" of the "League for Peace and Democracy."

The committee charged that the league was a "front" for Communist activity.

Asked to comment on publication of the list this week, the President told a press conference he had not read enough of the details of that rather "sordid procedure" to comment.

He agreed to a reporter's request that direct quotation of the phrase be permitted, a departure from the usual press conference practice.

Blistering arguments followed on the house floor.

Representative Hoffman (R-Mich) informed the house that he had introduced legislation to prohibit payment of federal funds to any officer or employee of the government belonging to any organization which teaches or is affiliated with an organization advocating overthrow of this government by force.

Dempsey Criticized.
A member of the Dies committee sharply criticized the publication of the names. Representative Dempsey (D-NM), asserted the action had resulted in "assassination" of the characters of innocent persons.

He declared the committee had made no effort to determine whether any of the government employees named on the list actually were members of the organization.

Dempsey accused the committee of "sordidness" in refusing to publish the names until he reached the meeting to furnish information which he said demonstrated the list should have been withheld.

On a floor speech a little later, Rep. Mason (R-Ill) asserted the committee's action was the culmination of a campaign of "moral suasion" to rid the government of those interested in the organization.

Two Objectives Sought.
Mason, a member of the committee, said these two objectives were sought:

"First—The resignation of the innocent government employees that are members of the local chapter, and

"Second—The resignation from government service of those members who are not innocent, but who are sympathizers with the efforts to overthrow the very government they are working for, and if the resignations from the government service are not forthcoming, the committee will force them from the public payroll."

The Dies committee linked with national defense today its charge to the Justice Department that the House League for Peace and Democracy was guilty of a "flagrant violation" of federal law.

A committee letter to the department bearing the signature of Chairman Dies (D-Tex), said there was "ample evidence" that the league was an agency of the Communist International in Moscow.

Therefore, the committee contended, the league was violating the law requiring agents of foreign principals to register with the state department.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The American League for Peace and Democracy today telegraphed Rep. Dies, of New Mexico, urging him to resign from the Dies committee in protest against its "unjust, un-American and unconstitutional" acts.

The new officers and the new members of the league announced it would issue a 24-page document tomorrow, disclosing what it termed "the unscrupulous and unprincipled testimony and prejudiced opinion accepted as facts by the Dies committee."

City officials and civic leaders received telegrams Friday morning from U. S. Senator Tom Connally of Maine, advising them that presidential approval had been given the WPA project application filed by the municipality for extensions, repairs and improvements of the water distribution system.

The project would be started as soon as orders were received from the state administrator.

Mayor J. S. Murchison reported that the time for the third annual fair at the city's new main to the pump station, and all necessary valves, etc.

The mayor pointed out it was imperative that the project be started immediately or Corsicana would lose the labor now being employed because the quota for the area is "frozen" and cannot be enlarged. District WPA officials were in Corsicana during the day for conferences on the new project.

Work on the paving of West Third avenue was halted after the heavy showers during the morning because the dampness prevents a proper union between the intermediate layer and the top wearing surface. It was hoped to continue the work during the afternoon.

A total of 147 parity checks for 1939 were received Saturday at the county AAA offices, amounting to $1,105.50. The season's total to $322,253.50.

GOVERNOR O'DANIEL FINDING HIS OFFICE TOO SMALL TAKE CARE VISITING DELEGATIONS

BY HOWARD C. MARSHALL, Austin, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The governor's offices on the second floor of the capitol once more are being re-arranged.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel plans to use the public reception room, beautifully re-furnished during the administration of Gov. James V. Allred, as an office where he can receive large delegations of visitors.

Without only change to be made in the furnishings, according to W. J. Lawson, the governor's secretary, is that a desk will be moved into the room. The antiquities and settees will still be utilized.

For the bulk of his routine work, the governor will continue to use a small office at the rear of the suite. It has been too small for some delegations and for other purposes.

After it had been started in the small office, the hearing resulted in the extradition of Richard Gallego to Georgia was transferred to the reception room.

Women are peculiarly qualified to be investigators of qualifications of old age pensioners applicants, says Adam Johnson, who is in charge of the state public welfare department.

Johnson takes sharp issue with Rep. Lou E. Alsop of Carthage, who is criticizing Johnson's administration, because of assistance, that women did not make good investigators. Alsop said he believed women knew little about finances and that the pension investigations were very important in pension investigations.

"Women have been very successful as investigators," Johnson said in closing an investigation. "I want to know whether the

MOST POWERFUL US NAVY IN YEARS IS NATION'S RELIANCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The largest and most powerful American navy in 17 years was held by President Roosevelt today that it was the nation's chief reliance to keep out of the European war.

"The most promising way to preserve our peace lies in the ability to defend our sea frontiers," Mr. Roosevelt said in a navy day letter to Acting Secretary Charles Edison.

"That peace we shall strive to maintain by all honorable and advanced means. With the world in arms, this country is compelled as never before to maintain an adequate and positive defense."

The President's letter constituted almost the only official recognition of the day. Officers and men themselves were too busy with the neutrality patrol, with training recruits and building new ships to celebrate.

Navy Day found the fleet operating under virtual wartime conditions. Visitors were barred from shops and shore stations. Movements of all fighting ships on the Atlantic Coast patrol and with the main fleet in the Pacific were secret.

CRUSHING LINE OF WACO BOTTLED UP CORSICANA ATTACK

OVERFLOW CROWD WITNESSED HIGHLY-TOUTED 'BATTLE OF BENGALS'

By PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor.

Coch Paul Tyson brought the most crushing and well-knit defensive and offensive aggregations in modern history to Tiger field Friday night and smothered the Corsicana Bengals, 27-7, in the most decisive margin ever staged on the local turf since these two clubs have been in the same district.

Corsicana Bengals possessed everything necessary for a championship aggregation Friday night with the exception of a punter, and incidentally, they did not need one.

Wallace Spencer, sensational ball-tugger for the Corsicana team, had scammed down the field in previous games for 80 points, was bottled up, and eight yards was as far as he ever lugged the ball. He did not get a chance to run at all in the game.

A bunch of boys have prized trophies today. Balls kicked for extra points did not come back.

The Waco line was a thing of beauty throughout, stopping the Corsicana forwards practically all night, hurling the Corsicana line into its own backs, and sweeping with power, precision and force.

And we believe we express the sentiments of the majority of Corsicana citizens when we salute the Brazos Valley football club than Corsicana, and congratulate Tyson and his Tigers and wish them well in the state race, for Waco has the kind of ball team that will improve each game.

It was a good big ball club against a good little ball club, and one thing can be said for the local aggregation, it did not stop fighting and gave its best efforts. It is a shame the Corsicana line failed to get a shot at the game, but they did not occur, the outcome would in all probability have been the same, for Waco made many breaks, and had Corsicana lucked out, Waco would have won a better one.

Corsicana coaches and players Saturday morning announced they would give the remainder of the football season to the Corsicana line of competition for the second place.

It is hard to pick out outstanding players. Sutton played a great game on the defense for the Bengals as did Prewitt and Plyler.

Spencer, Bowler, Prewitt and Plyler were the Corsicana backs were charging demons, who shook loose or ran over the Corsicana secondary lads almost at will. A charging 180 or heavier back is pretty tough to be successfully tackled.

Commanded by Roy Stewart turned in a fine defensive game for Corsicana.

Pullittie Powerful.
Early in the game Pullittie ran with the power and speed of a locomotive for 28 yards to the Corsicana 21. He then ripped in a couple of drives to the Corsicana 4. McCollum made 1 and then 4 to the 2 yard line. Corsicana breeched in the shadow of her goal with a desperate effort.

Andrews punted 30 to Bowen who snaked his way back to the Corsicana 12 from which point a score resulted. Pullittie crashed over from the 3 yard line for placement converted to give Waco a 7-0 lead.

Corsicana's offensive efforts were smashed effectively and Waco came thundering back down the field to the Corsicana 3 as the first period ended.

Pullittie crashed over early in the second half for the touchdown and Bowen missed, ending the scoring for the half.

Garity finished and Waco recovered on the Corsicana 30. Corsicana took the ball on downs on her 22 and Spencer punted 30 after Waco forwards could not be budged.

Bowen sprinted away on a 47 yard dash to the Corsicana 11 after he had apparently been trapped for a loss, but again the Corsicana defense tightened and the ball went over to the Corsicana 9.

Number of Boys Questioned By Local Officers

City officers discovered a boy inside the Nothing Rite cafe on South Ninth street early Friday morning, with a considerable quantity of tobacco and money in his possession.

They reported the youth told them a man had raised the window and helped him inside to rob the place. The man was arrested in the railroad yards in connection with the incident.

Officers were still investigating near noon Friday.

Four Waco youths were questioned at length by city officers Thursday night in connection with two attempts to paint signs on the school buildings and business fronts in the vicinity of the schools. The boys were reported to have been picked up at a local cafe and a bucket of paint found in their car. After a strict warning, the boys were released to leave town immediately, officers reported.

Officers and students also were kept busy Wednesday night and Thursday preventing the Carthage youths from the McLennan county seat from destroying the pile of wood secured for the big pep rally Thursday night. One of the victors was reported to have a bottle in his possession to aid in the attempt to thwart the pep rally.

A negro was arrested Friday morning for sleeping in a public place and another from Ellis county was arrested on a charge of intoxication and assault.

usual difference in perfect measurements between the waistline and the hips is about nine inches. But now, to have that hour-glass appearance, the difference in these measurements should be ten to eleven inches. That means a smaller waist—not bigger hips! So stop being lazy and get to work, or you will be left far behind in style—and you wouldn't want that.

Now, for our stretching exercise! Stand with the feet apart, arms stretched far over the head.

Now swing around in big circles—far to the side, way back, around and way out to the side, and forward and upward in the front. It is a big wheel and you must stretch way out or you will never hang on to that handle! Move around and around—not too fast; the point is to stretch and pull out from the waistline, waking up all those dormant muscles and pads of fat. Banish them forever—you'll never need them again.

CHAIRMAN NAMED ANNUAL RED CROSS ROLL CALL CAMPAIGN

GENERAL CHAIRMAN LEVY APPOINTS LEADERS SEVERAL DIVISIONS OF DRIVE

In preparation for the annual Red Cross roll call, which takes place this year, as it does each year, from Armistice Day, Nov. 11, to Thanksgiving Day, General Roll Call Chairman Wally Levy has named chairmen for the separate divisions of the campaign drive. These chairmen are expected to take care of their divisions and name their own helpers in the campaign.

This year, probably more than for many previous years, the Red Cross is needing funds and memberships. The extra need is due in large part to the work among refugees from the war zones. Efforts are being made to relieve the distress among many Americans and others who have, through no fault of their own, been caught in the maelstrom of war. But the primary aim of this annual drive is to bring a backlog or nucleus for disaster relief, to be able to at once answer the calls for help that come from many causes, fires, floods, storms, etc.

This year's campaign will be for at least 3,000 memberships above the special memberships and gifts. In preparation for this Chairman Levy has named the following persons to carry out the campaign in their several divisions:

Postoffice—John J. Garner.
Business District—Dr. H. B. Love.
County Enrollment—James E. Taylor of Kerens.
State National Bank Building—F. C. Paul.
City Schools—W. H. Norwood.
State Home—J. S. Halley.
Odd Fellows Home—C. B. Couch.
Daily Star—Eugene Martin.
First National Bank—J. N. Garbity.

State National Bank—Mrs. Halie Hampton.
City Iron Works—Hubert Brantzen.
Hospitals—Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Burnett.
Telephone Company—Ralph Egan.
City Hall—Miss Elizabeth Mowlam.
Advance Gifts—Robert Cason.
Court House—C. C. Sands.
Residential District—Mrs. A. B. Horn.

MACKENZIE
stions would have to be made. Wrongs would have to be rectified.

Opponents of the idea of a truce to investigate peace possibilities agree that the issues at stake will have to be ironed out on the battle-field soon or late, and now is the appointed hour. But that isn't necessarily true. A cessation of hostilities to consider ways and means would give millions of youths a little reprieve from death. That's something.

And if the parley didn't succeed in securing reparations and guarantees for future security, still all parties would still be packing guns and could proceed to shoot it out.

Personal
C. M. Fitzgerald of Rice, county commissioner, was here Monday afternoon.

O. O. Slaughter of Currie, county commissioner, was in Corsicana Monday afternoon.

Tom Hoosier of Frost was here Monday.

Judge E. V. Hatley of Rice was here Monday.

Henry Hall of Purdon was here Monday morning.

J. P. Johnson of Blooming Grove was a Corsicana visitor Monday morning.

ITALIAN DANCER IS FACING ESPIONAGE CHARGE SWITZERLAND

THREE MEN ALSO CHARGED WITH TREASON WITH WOMAN AT GENEVA

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ, Jr.
GENEVA, Oct. 30.—(P)—A dark-eyed dancer of Italian birth, accused of leading a spy ring working for several foreign governments, went on trial today with three men.

Virginia Capt Rota, 35-year old performer from the night clubs of Rome, Paris and Madrid, has been in jail since last Dec. 19.

Swiss counter-espionage operatives charged they caught her and Roger Joel, 35, a draftsman once employed in the Swiss factory, as they tried to cross into France carrying plans for a new anti-aircraft gun and other military information from Switzerland and other countries.

A magistrate's report said that Paul Rochat, another of the four and former operator of a private detective agency in Geneva, delivered information concerning Swiss national defense to the consul general of Italy.

Rochat was said to be the ring's contact man with representatives of foreign governments. The trial was held behind locked doors before five Geneva federal judges.

All are Swiss citizens and are charged with treason.

Although the dancer is of Italian parentage, she became a naturalized Swiss citizen.

Federal police said at the time of her arrest that they believed she was the master mind of an international ring of spies.

From the beginning of 1939 to the start of the war, the police have arrested about 300 persons accused of espionage.
